Grievance Handling Policy

Self-Resolution

Opportunity may be given for the complaint or grievance to be resolved between parties without intervention from Calisthenics Buderim representatives on an official basis.

Sensitivity

All grievances and complaints will be dealt with appropriately which means with seriousness and sensitivity.

Timely

It is the objective of Calisthenics Buderim to deal with any grievance or complaint as quickly as possible.

Process - what to do if you have a complaint/grievance

Step 1

Work out the best way to handle the situation. If you are not sure how to handle the problem yourself, options include speaking to your coach, team manager or Calisthenics Buderim Committee for advice and guidance. Email: info@calisthenicsbuderim.com

Step 2

If you feel comfortable with your relationship with the other person involved, try to sort the situation out directly between yourself and that person. Sometimes things happen unintentionally, and the matter could be sorted out with an explanation and an apology. This should be done as close to the incident of concern to avoid confusion.

Step 3

If you are unable to handle the matter yourself, approach the Calisthenics Buderim Committee who will appoint a grievance/complaint handler.

The Calisthenics Buderim Committee will, wherever practical, within 3 working days:

- Speak with you to obtain full details concerning your grievance or complaint and discover your wishes for a resolution
- Decide whether at the least, the issue is serious enough that, if proven, it would be a breach of discipline or other related policy (Such as member protection)
- Explain the process required to continue towards a resolution of the issue.

Grievance Handling Policy

- Decide the most appropriate person to handle the complaint or grievance. (If there is a conflict of Interest, the matter will be referred to another appropriate grievance/complaint handler.)

Step 4

The grievance/complaint handler will gather information from the party or parties allegedly involved in the issue. This involves:

- Speaking to all witnesses they believe have information relevant to the complaint.
- Decide whether at the least, the issue is serious enough that, if proven, it would be a breach of discipline or other related policy (Such as member protection)
- Explain the process required to continue towards a resolution of the issue.

It is not a breach of confidentiality to speak to any witnesses or parties involved. Only the required number of people will be spoken to about the issue, and they will not be told any more information than they need to know.

Where contradiction in accounts of the issue is encountered, the grievance/complaint handler may seek more information from all parties.

Step 5

A decision will then be made on how to resolve the issue and inform all parties.

Where the grievance involves an allegation of a 'less serious' nature (e.g. Breach of Code of behaviour, or anything non-criminal) and the main facts are not in dispute, the situation will be mediated. This means assistance will be given to you and the person or persons about whom you have complained, to come to a joint decision on how to resolve the issue.

A confidential record of the issue will be kept, and the matter will go no further within Calisthenics Buderim however the details may be reported to the CAQI or ACF.

Where the grievance involves an allegation of a 'less serious' nature (e.g. Breach of Code of behaviour, or anything non-criminal) and the main facts are in dispute, the grievance/complaint handler will:

- Indicate to all parties why the issue has been unable to be resolved and inform all parties of the consequences had the facts been established.
- Reinforce the importance of refraining from any repercussions against individuals which may result from the grievance/complaint procedure.
